

ADAMSON BILL NOW READY TO BE SIGNED

United States Senate Passes the Bill as It Came from the House without Making Even One Single Change in Same

STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

SENATE PASSES EIGHT-HOUR LAW BY BARE PARTY VOTE

President pro Tem and Speaker Clark Sign It and It is Sent to the White House.

TO BECOME A LAW TODAY

Arrangement is Made for President Wilson to Sign the Bill Early This Morning.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The Adamson eight-hour-day bill accepted by labor union officials as providing a settlement of demands based on their order calling a nation-wide railroad strike for Monday was passed without amendment by the Senate tonight and now awaits only President Wilson's signature to make it a law. Revocation of the strike order is expected within a few hours.

The vote on the bill was forty-three to twenty-eight. An amendment by Senator LaFollette to provide that nothing in the proposed laws should be construed to repeal or modify the law limiting continued labor on railroads to sixteen hours was rejected. Almost Strict Party Vote.

Senators Hardwick, of Georgia, and Clarke, of Arkansas, were the only Democrats voting against the bill and Senator LaFollette the only Republican voting for it.

Senator Hughes, acting president pro tem, and Speaker Clark signed the bill a few minutes after 6 o'clock and it was sent to the White House where officials said it would be held until the president's return tomorrow from Long Branch. He is expected to sign it as soon as he arrives.

Striking Seniors.
The legislative expedient to avert the strike was passed in the Senate by a vote of forty-three to twenty-eight—almost a strict party vote—amid stirring scenes after many senators, Democrats and Republicans, had fought desperately to amend the measure by provisions designed to prevent disasters in the future. Some senators thoroughly aroused, declared Congress was being coerced into enactment of legislation that it did not desire and that it knew would return to plague it in the future in both houses.

The measure was signed within a few minutes after the final vote in the Senate and it was sent at once to the White House where President Wilson will sign it at 7:30 tomorrow morning after his return from Shady Lawn. Officials of the brotherhoods who witnessed the final passage of the bill had announced in the night that cancellation of the call for the strike would not be ordered until after the bill had been signed by the president and had actually become a law.

But later they conferred, changed their minds and flashed the code messages signifying to the waiting trainmen of the country through their chancellors the message that a satisfactory settlement had been made.

What Bill Provides.
The bill that stopped the strike provides that after January 1, 1917, eight hours shall be regarded as a basis of reckoning for a day's pay of men engaged in the operation of railroad trains in interstate commerce, excepting roads less than 100 miles long and electric lines; that they

(Continued on page 2, first section.)

OPINION

On Prohibitionists' Standing as a Political Party Will Be Given This Week.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) CHARLESTON, Sept. 2.—Attorney General A. A. Lilly has been asked by Stuart F. Reed, secretary of state, for an opinion as to whether the Prohibition party may have a state ticket on the ballot to be voted at the November election. General Lilly said tonight he had not had an opportunity to go into the subject but would give an opinion some time next week.

ROADS ARE LIFTING THEIR EMBARGOES ON FREIGHT GOODS

GOES TO JUNGLES
WITH HER HUSBAND

Mrs. A. Hamilton Rice.

Dr. A. Hamilton Rice, the noted South American explorer, whose experiences in the jungles of the Orinoco and the Amazon have made many brave men shudder, is going to make another exploration into the untracked homes of blood-sucking insects and man-eating fishes, with his wife, who was formerly Mrs. George D. Widener, widow of George D. Widener, who went down on the Titanic.

The measure was signed within a few minutes after the final vote in the Senate and it was sent at once to the White House where President Wilson will sign it at 7:30 tomorrow morning after his return from Shady Lawn.

Officials of the brotherhoods who witnessed the final passage of the bill had announced in the night that cancellation of the call for the strike would not be ordered until after the bill had been signed by the president and had actually become a law.

But later they conferred, changed their minds and flashed the code messages signifying to the waiting trainmen of the country through their chancellors the message that a satisfactory settlement had been made.

What Bill Provides.

The bill that stopped the strike provides that after January 1, 1917, eight hours shall be regarded as a basis of reckoning for a day's pay of men engaged in the operation of railroad trains in interstate commerce, excepting roads less than 100 miles long and electric lines; that they

(Continued on page 2, first section.)

Officials of the brotherhoods who witnessed the final passage of the bill had announced in the night that cancellation of the call for the strike would not be ordered until after the bill had been signed by the president and had actually become a law.

But later they conferred, changed their minds and flashed the code messages signifying to the waiting trainmen of the country through their chancellors the message that a satisfactory settlement had been made.

What Bill Provides.

The bill that stopped the strike provides that after January 1, 1917, eight hours shall be regarded as a basis of reckoning for a day's pay of men engaged in the operation of railroad trains in interstate commerce, excepting roads less than 100 miles long and electric lines; that they

(Continued on page 2, first section.)

Officials of the brotherhoods who witnessed the final passage of the bill had announced in the night that cancellation of the call for the strike would not be ordered until after the bill had been signed by the president and had actually become a law.

But later they conferred, changed their minds and flashed the code messages signifying to the waiting trainmen of the country through their chancellors the message that a satisfactory settlement had been made.

What Bill Provides.

The bill that stopped the strike provides that after January 1, 1917, eight hours shall be regarded as a basis of reckoning for a day's pay of men engaged in the operation of railroad trains in interstate commerce, excepting roads less than 100 miles long and electric lines; that they

(Continued on page 2, first section.)

Officials of the brotherhoods who witnessed the final passage of the bill had announced in the night that cancellation of the call for the strike would not be ordered until after the bill had been signed by the president and had actually become a law.

But later they conferred, changed their minds and flashed the code messages signifying to the waiting trainmen of the country through their chancellors the message that a satisfactory settlement had been made.

What Bill Provides.

The bill that stopped the strike provides that after January 1, 1917, eight hours shall be regarded as a basis of reckoning for a day's pay of men engaged in the operation of railroad trains in interstate commerce, excepting roads less than 100 miles long and electric lines; that they

(Continued on page 2, first section.)

Officials of the brotherhoods who witnessed the final passage of the bill had announced in the night that cancellation of the call for the strike would not be ordered until after the bill had been signed by the president and had actually become a law.

But later they conferred, changed their minds and flashed the code messages signifying to the waiting trainmen of the country through their chancellors the message that a satisfactory settlement had been made.

What Bill Provides.

The bill that stopped the strike provides that after January 1, 1917, eight hours shall be regarded as a basis of reckoning for a day's pay of men engaged in the operation of railroad trains in interstate commerce, excepting roads less than 100 miles long and electric lines; that they

(Continued on page 2, first section.)

Officials of the brotherhoods who witnessed the final passage of the bill had announced in the night that cancellation of the call for the strike would not be ordered until after the bill had been signed by the president and had actually become a law.

But later they conferred, changed their minds and flashed the code messages signifying to the waiting trainmen of the country through their chancellors the message that a satisfactory settlement had been made.

What Bill Provides.

The bill that stopped the strike provides that after January 1, 1917, eight hours shall be regarded as a basis of reckoning for a day's pay of men engaged in the operation of railroad trains in interstate commerce, excepting roads less than 100 miles long and electric lines; that they

Such Action is Begun as Soon as the Strike Order is Cancelled.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—After the officials of the Pennsylvania railroad had been notified that the threatened strike had been called off, orders were telegraphed throughout the state lifting the embargo on the freight that had been held in anticipation of a strike.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO CANCELS EMBARGO

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) BALTIMORE, Sept. 2.—The Baltimore and Ohio railroad began tonight the issuance of orders by telegraph, cancelling embargoes. The Western Maryland railroad also announced that its embargoes would be lifted immediately.

MANY EXTRA TRAINS ARE RUN OUT OF NEW YORK

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Action to lift freight embargoes, imposed when the nation-wide railway controversy assumed a threatening aspect, was expected to be taken within a few hours by the New York Central, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Lehigh Valley and other lines with general offices in this city it was announced tonight by railroad officials.

Thousands of persons who had postponed Labor day vacation trips because of the threatened strike gathered at the stations today and tonight and railroad offices were swamped with inquiries in regard to trains to the Catskills and resorts and other outing places. Many extra trains were run to accommodate the delayed traffic.

RAPID GROWTH.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Free delivery service of postal matter in the United States, established July 1, 1863, under Postmaster General Montgomery Blair of the District of Columbia, has grown from sixty-six city delivery offices having 685 carriers and costing $317,063 in 1864 to 1,908 city delivery offices having 32,902 carriers and costing $42,038,876 in 1915.

MANY ARE HURT IN A RAIL WRECK

When a Broken Rail Causes Nine Coaches of Flyer to Go over Embankment.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 2.—Twenty-five persons were injured, several seriously, when a broken rail on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad at Wilkins Switch near Macetona, Mich., caused nine coaches of the Chicago and Cincinnati flyer to go over an embankment late tonight. Automobiles have been requisitioned to bring the injured to Kalkaska and Mancelona. The spot where the wreck occurred is about fifty miles south of Petoskey, the heart of a popular resort district.

At a late hour tonight local officials of the road had only meager reports.

MRS. WHITE DEAD.

LENOX, Mass., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Henry White, 62, wife of the former ambassador to France and Italy, died here today.

PENNYBACKER DEAD

Former Governor of the State of Pennsylvania Is No More on Earth.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—Samuel W. Pennypacker, former governor of Pennsylvania, died today, of uremic poisoning at his home at Schwenksville, Pa. He was 73 years old. Governor Pennypacker for many years had been a foremost figure in Pennsylvania affairs. Before the notable contest in the Republican party in 1903, which resulted in his election as governor, he had served for many years as a judge in Philadelphia.

For the last four years he had been a member of the state house service committee.

MRS. GOULD, THOUGH A GRANDMOTHER, SEEMS TO KNOW THE SECRET OF YOUTH

Mrs. George J. Gould on a morning spin.

Mrs. George J. Gould's most recent photograph shows well enough that though she is a grandmother she has found the secret of keeping young. Mrs. Gould might easily be thought the younger sister of many who are her juniors. Her advice on how to look young would be welcomed by lots of women who have seen her success. The picture of Mrs. Gould, the first to appear for some while, was made at Georgian court, the Gould country place, at Lakewood, N. J.

WILSON OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN

For Re-Election to the Presidency with a Speech at Summer White House.

SPEAKS FROM VERANDA
Declares Himself Independent of Alien Element Which is Hyphenated in Loyalty.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) LONG BRANCH, Sept. 2.—President Wilson formally opened his campaign for re-election with a speech accepting the Democratic nomination, in which he charged the Republican party as a "practical and moral failure," defended his Mexican and foreign policies, recited the executive achievements of his administration and declared for a big America.

The president left Shadow Lawn at 11 o'clock tonight for Washington to renew his efforts to avert the threatened nation-wide railroad strike.

Unsparring Criticism.
In his speech the president was unsparring in his criticism of the Republican party, as a party of masterly inactivity and cunning resourcefulness in standing pat to resist change, and said that old leaders still select its candidates, but he did not mention Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate, by name.

The president spoke from the veranda of his summer home to a crowd which filled 8,000 chairs and overflowed the lawn. Speaking in the open, his voice could be heard only a small part of the time, but those who did hear him constantly interrupted with cheers when he said:

"I neither seek the favor nor fear the displeasure of that small alien element amongst us which puts loyalty to any foreign power before loyalty to the United States." The crowd stood and cheered.

The ceremonies were brought to a dramatic close when more than a

(Continued on page 2, first section.)

CALL FOR STRIKE STANDS REVOKED

DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS
STRICKEN FROM DOCKET

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) CHARLESTON, Sept. 2.—Thirty-five divorce proceedings were stricken from the docket of the common pleas court of Kanawha County today, in many of which decrees had been rendered but not recorded because of attorneys failing to pay the fees. In many instances both men and women who supposed they had been legally divorced have re-married illegally, according to legal opinion.

APPEAL ALLOWED

By Judge John W. Mason in the Marion County Roads Bond Election Case.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) CHARLESTON, Sept. 2.—Note was made today in the office of the clerk of the supreme court of appeals that an appeal had been allowed by Judge John W. Mason in vacation in the case from Marion county of Wilbur N. Morgan and others against the county court of Marion. The question of legality of votes cast in a roads bond election in a Marion county district is involved.

SHORTAGES

In the Accounts of Two Former Sheriffs of Grant County Are Settled.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) CHARLESTON, Sept. 2.—Settlement has been made by two former sheriffs of Grant county, in accordance with the audit of these officials made recently by the state tax commissioner's department. This announcement was made today by Chief Accountant E. A. Dover, under whose direction the audits were made.

Discrepancies found amounted to $1,200 during the period from 1910 to 1915.

FRENCH FLAG FLIES.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) ATHENS, Greece, Friday, Sept. 1, midnight, via London, Sept. 2.—The French flag today was hoisted on four German and three Austrian merchant ships in the Harbor of Piraeus.

HUGHES IS GIVEN A GREAT OVATION

REVOLUTION

In Greece is Spreading and Martial Law is Proclaimed in Several Cities.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) ROME, Sept. 2, via London.—It was reported here today that the revolution in Greece is spreading and that martial law has been proclaimed in Athens, Piraeus and several other cities.

The uprising is extending in Thessaly and Epirus which, together with Greek Macedonia in which the movement was inaugurated, constitute the northern half of Greece.

The condition of King Constantine is reported to be very serious. King Constantine has been in ill health for several months, never having recovered from an operation for pleurisy a short time ago, and a second operation was performed, but there have been no indications that the king's condition was serious.

Audience in the Coliseum at St. Louis Cheers Nominee Twenty-One Minutes.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2.—Charles E. Hughes, faced an audience in the Coliseum here tonight that cheered him twenty-one minutes, and in his talk he referred repeatedly to points made by President Wilson in his acceptance speech.

"I protest," Mr. Hughes said, "against the extravagant claim that the anti-trust act was clarified by definition by our opponents. They folded themselves up in a vague phrase and presented that as the solution."

"From the claims of our opponents with respect to child labor legislation, you would suppose they had discovered the children," said Mr. Hughes.

(Continued on page 2, first section.)

Threat of General Strike Hanging Like a Pall over Country is Finally Lifted.

MEN ARE NOTIFIED BY WIRE

More Than 600 Code Messages Are Sent by the Brotherhood Leaders.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—An order revoking the call for a country-wide railroad strike Monday was sent out by labor union officials tonight, after Congress had passed the Adamson eight-hour-day bill, and sent it to the president for his signature.

The threat of a general strike which has been hanging like a pall over a month was lifted tonight three hours after the Senate had passed without amendment the Adamson eight-hour-day bill, passed by the House yesterday when the heads of the four great railroad employees' brotherhoods telegraphed 600 odd code messages to their general chairmen in all parts of the country calling the strike order issued a week ago to take effect next Monday morning at 7 o'clock.

Armloads of Messages.
Issuance of orders of cancellation of the strike order followed a meeting of the four brotherhood heads and thirteen remaining members of their committee of 640. Some opposition to acting before the president actually affixed his signature was evidenced in the meeting, but in the end the seventeen voted unanimously to call off the strike immediately.

All of the code messages had been prepared in advance and as quickly as the declaration was announced clerks rushed to telegraph offices with armloads of the messages.

No two of the more than 600 despatches were alike. One of them read:

"It is reported that a big fire is raging in Toronto."

Another said: "There is danger of your house burning down tomorrow."

Even the brotherhood heads did not know what all the messages indicated, the composition having been left to clerks.

The original plan to wait until the president had signed the bill before calling off the strike, was abandoned in order to facilitate transmission of the messages.

Brotherhood Heads Invited.
It was thought that if the order was not sent out until tomorrow

(Continued on page 2, first section.)

POPE PROTESTS

Against the Italian Seizure of the Ancient Palace of the Republic of Venice.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) BERLIN, Sept. 2, by wireless to Saville.—Pope Benedict, according to the Vossische Zeitung, has formally protested against the seizure by the Italian government of the ancient palace of the republic of Venice, the Palazzo Di Venezia in Rome.

The palace was being used by the Austro-Hungarian American accredited to the Holy See.

Austria-Hungary, the newspaper says, already has transmitted a protest through the Spanish embassy against the seizure, declaring that Italy by the conference of August 24, 1888, recognized the inviolability of the palace and pointing out that the seizure in addition infringes upon the right of the pontiff to maintain diplomatic relations with the foreign powers.

LINERS SEIZED.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) LONDON, Sept. 2.—Four German liners have been seized in the harbor of Piraeus by boarding parties from the Entente Allied fleet, according to dispatches from Athens to the Evening News. The steamers are the Linas, Antolia, Serphos and Bergamos.